Type of guidance and use of good practices.

* In your view would it be more helpful for contracting authorities and other stakeholders that the Commission published:

- ☒ An extensive, in-depth and comprehensive guidance on socially responsible public procurement including legal and technical explanations as well as examples

- ☐ A more succinct document, explaining key concepts concisely and relying more heavily on existing practices and examples

* Concerning the collection and publication of good practices related to socially responsible public procurement, in your view would it be more helpful for contracting authorities and other stakeholders that the Commission:

- ☒ included good practices in the text as examples illustrating the theoretical explanations
- ☐ published, in addition to the guide, the most extensive number of good practices, collected in a separate document

Outline of the guidance

We propose below a series of topics which could be treated in the guide in separate chapters. Please evaluate the relevance and appropriateness of each topic.

	not relevant	slightly relevant	relevant	very relevant	crucial
* Practical guidelines on the use of the legal tools and options provided under the 2014 Directives. This section could describe in a practical way how to implement the opportunities made available by the Directives throughout the public procurement procedure.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
* Socially responsible public procurement: policy and institutional framework. This section could explain how to put in place a comprehensive policy on socially responsible public procurement at national and local level, presenting examples from central governments and local authorities across the EU.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
* Market consultation, market involvement. This section could explain the importance of appropriately and effectively consulting the market in advance and how to maintain a fruitful dialogue with bidders/contractor to maximize the intended socially responsible outcome of the procurement.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>

* Execution of the contract, responsible supply chains and verification of requirements. This section could explain how to put in place proportionate, effective and cost-efficient measures allowing contracting authorities to monitor and verify compliance with socially responsible requirements in the execution phase of the contract.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
* Relationship of EU public procurement rules with EU rules on labor conditions. This section could summarize the existing rules and case-law on the topic.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
* Accessibility rules in public procurement procedures. This section could address the use of accessibility criteria in public procurement procedures (possibly taking into account the upcoming European Accessibility Act).	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
* Encouraging access to socially responsible public procurement procedures for social economy stakeholders. This section could explain how contracting authorities may take into account the peculiarities of the social economy sectors, so as to support their participation in public procurement procedures.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
* Socially responsible public procurement in relevant sectors. This section could explain how to run socially responsible public procurement procedures in a few key sectors.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
* Four selected priority sectors to be treated in the guidance.	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

* If you indicated that tackling priority sectors as at least "relevant", please select four among the following sectors which in your view should be treated in the guidance:

at least 4 choice(s)

- ☒ cleaning services
- ☐ security services
- ☒ catering, food and agricultural supply
- ☐ garments supply chain
- ☐ raw materials supply chain
- ☐ surgical instruments supply chain
- ☐ electronic hardware equipment supply chain

- ☐ construction sector
- ☒ built environment
- ☐ transport
- ☐ ICT services
- ☒ Other

Please specify:

40 character(s) minimum

social and health care services should also be included as a priority sector

General comments

* Do you have any general comment on the structure and scope of a future Commission guide on socially responsible public procurement? Please provide it in the box below.

500 character(s) maximum

Rather than a stand-alone document, the Guidance would be more useful as a dynamic tool or portal which tracks and incorporates the progress of implementation and innovation around social clauses.

A starting point for this would be a stock taking exercise on available social criteria in national procurement rules.

A mainstreamed approach to socially responsible public procurement clashes with the idea of 'priority' or 'relevant' sectors where social and health services are missing.
