Eurodiaconia's study-visits provide an opportunity to shine a light on our Members' projects and initiatives that are making an immeasurable difference on the ground, alongside creating space to discuss wider social policy issues whilst offering our Members the chance to network.

On July 1, we invite you to attend our online study visit to find out more about our Greek Member, the Evangelical Church of Greece and their not-for-profit – Perichoresis.

Focusing specifically on their project, 'REFUAID,' this study-visit will explore the impact that Perichoresis NGO is having on refugee integration in Greece. REFUAID provides accommodation, social, legal, medical support, educational and technical skills to 10 families experiencing major social and financial difficulties in Northern Greece.

We have also invited a representative from the Commission, Dr. Angelique Petrits and Mrs. Isabel Santos MEP to lead our wider discussion on refugee integration in Europe and the Action Plan on Integration and Inclusion.
